This two hour workshop will help teachers understand how flipped classrooms can be embedded in their everyday lesson plans. One way to build 21st skills, such as, critical thinking skills, problem solving skills, communication skills, tech skills and lifelong learning skills in pupils is through using the flipped classroom pedagogy in lessons. Flipped classrooms not only harness 21st century skills in students but are also inclusive in nature catering to all styles of learning. In this workshop we will not only talk about the challenges that teachers may face in implementing these skills through flipped classrooms but also how to overcome these challenges.
