34 Years of Empowering

FROM THE SPELT DESK

SPELT is truly a teachers' organization, which has come into being as a result of a felt need to have a forum where teachers can develop themselves. It has survived all these years despite many challenges because of the sincerity of purpose with which the members of the SPELT Working Committee devote their time and energy for continuing to make SPELT a niche for teachers. SPELT is unique in the sense that it runs in a non-hierarchical manner. Thirty-five years ago, when this structure was chosen, it was because SPELT wanted to consider all services given to SPELT as equal, not considering age or academic qualifications as a basis for holding an office. Thus the spirit of volunteerism with which teachers worked together, it seemed to be more inclusive to have 'Coordinators' as office bearers, rather than a President, Secretary, structure. Volunteers work for SPELT- not to gain prestige or for haloed titles, but to work in the best interests of SPELT. So, in SPELT, the coordinators and their subcommittees take responsibility for an area of work and make an effort to achieve task completion to the best of their ability. The main focus is on coordination and teamwork, which means that SPELTers' services, - no matter how big or small – all are recognized and appreciated. Also, for a big event like the conference, all committees coordinate with each other, and the only aim is the success of the event, rather than a committee or a person gaining prominence in any way.

Over the years, in SPELT's Visitors Book there are very many appreciative comments about SPELTers' spirit of volunteerism displayed during SPELT's events such as the annual conference. Nowhere else in the world, visitors are welcomed as warmly as SPELTers welcome them. They open up their homes and give visitors a taste of the warm hospitality, which is a part of our proud heritage in this part of the world. The enthusiasm and passion with which the job checklists and procedural instructions for the event are taken up by teams responsible for it, are just as remarkable and shows an enviable level of professionalism in SPELTers. Other teams work over the programme book or the actual venue arrangements night after night to get it ready in time for the conference programme attendees. You might wonder why and where this enthusiasm comes from? It stems from the feeling of ownership of SPELT, where no one is a boss and all are working for the same goal!

How about joining as a volunteer for SPELT this year, to get a taste of this intoxicating pleasure which SPELTers get, for giving their time and energy to fulfill their goal of improving educational opportunities for our future generations?

ICELT 2019-2020

We are proud to tell you that the In-Service Certificate of English Language Teachers (Cambridge University, ESOL) (Phase I) started at SPELT on 13 June 2019. The phase I input sessions (face-to-face) will be followed by supervised teaching practice in phase II.

It's really great to be with the professional and experienced teachers. SPELT is really a great platform to improve yourself and become a perspective teacher.

Muhammad Amir Bin Baqi.

ICELT has had a significant impact on my approach to teaching methodologies. From the very beginning, the course has been informative and practical.

Faiqa

The start of our ICELT course since the 13th June has been amazing. The first two days with Ma'am Zakia Sarwar were enlightening and informative and I hope to learn a lot this whole year with all the excellent tutors. Thank you SPELT for this wonderful opportunity.

Taghrid Ahmed.
